LOCATION

The Barrington Ferry Tract consists of approximately 61 acres located in Liberty County, Georgia, just a few miles east of Riceboro. The property lies approximately 0.9 miles south of the intersection of Georgia Highway 119 and Barrington Ferry Road and is identified as Tax Parcel 167-002 per the Liberty County Tax Assessor.

Riceboro is centrally located along the Georgia coast, roughly halfway between Savannah and Brunswick, with the nearby communities of Hinesville and Richmond Hill approximately a 25-minute drive away. The area features large tracts of commercial timberland, offering privacy, abundant wildlife, and a quiet rural atmosphere. Coastal Georgia is known for its scenic marshlands and convenient access to intercoastal waterways.

ACCESS

Access to the property is provided by a 60-foot-wide access road entering from Barrington Ferry Road, adjacent to the Tree of Life Burial Gardens. The gated entrance is located at the southwest corner of the property, with an approximate GPS coordinate of 31.7358483, -81.4695779. The tract benefits from proximity to U.S. Highway 17 and Interstate 95, providing convenient regional access while maintaining a secluded, rural setting.

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

The Barrington Ferry Tract is a 61-acre mixed hardwood and pine forest, well-suited for recreational use, particularly deer and turkey hunting. The terrain is typical of coastal Georgia, generally flat and somewhat poorly drained, creating excellent habitat for a variety of wildlife species. The property is ideal for recreational hunting, camping, ATV riding, or enjoying solitude away from more developed areas. The surrounding timberland and minimal nearby development enhance privacy and recreational appeal.

TIMBER RESOURCE

The tract features a diverse mix of merchantable pine and hardwood timber. The timber could be thinned, selectively harvested, or clear-cut, depending on the buyer's objectives, or simply retained for aesthetic and recreational enjoyment.
